

Vassilis Golfinopoulos

MD, PhD

Dr Vassilis Golfinopoulos serves as the Chief Medical Officer of the EORTC, providing strategic leadership and oversight of the organisation's clinical research activities. In this role, he contributes to the development and implementation of the EORTC's scientific strategy, coordinating the scientific, operational, and project management activities across EORTC Headquarters.

